Terms of Use for Scholarly and Personal Use for the National Museum of Women in the Arts (NMWA)

No reproduction without further written permission from NMWA

1. Permission for use is contingent upon receipt of advance payment and a signed copy of these guidelines. When placing an order, please state fully, in writing, the intended use of the material requested.

2. NMWA is not responsible for obtaining necessary license from third-party copyright holders. The requestor is responsible for securing any and all copyright licenses from the copyright holder unless the work is in the public domain.

3. NMWA reserves the right to revoke the permission granted herein at any time if NMWA is requested to do so by a third-party rights holder in the Image(s).

4. Applicant will defend, indemnify and hold NMWA harmless from all claims, causes and allegations (whether threatened or pending), costs, fees and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees), awards, judgments, damages, losses and liabilities arising from or relating to any breach of this Application by Applicant or the officers, directors, employees, agents, representatives, contractors and subcontractors of party against NMWA based entirely or in part on Applicant’s exploitation of the Image(s) licensed hereunder.

5. Transparencies and digital images may not be duplicated or transferred to a third-party under any circumstances.