Biographical Note

Susan DeRenne Coerr (1939-2007) was born into an international life in New York City, her father an American diplomat and her mother a native of Mexico. She spent much of her youth abroad, and graduated from a boarding school in Pennsylvania at age nineteen. She received a B.A. and a M.A. in Fine Art, the former from Carleton College in Minnesota, the latter from the University of Maryland. Her concentration was printmaking, and she spent her immediate post-graduation years working on her career as an artist and teaching art classes. Throughout her life she went by the name Susie; however, she preferred to use the name DeRenne in various professional situations and publications.

In the early 1970s she moved to San Francisco full-time, where she began a ten year stint as registrar at the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco. During this time she co-founded the Northern California Chapter of the Women's Caucus for Art where her involvement culminated with her serving as president for the national organization. In 1984 Coerr became a member of the American Society of Indexers, and was very active with the local chapter until her death in 2007. During this time she indexed many art, business, humanities and education publications.
